Welcome to the world of spy games! Using a “hands-on” approach, campers are assigned to a team and required to function in several team positions. Students learn observation and awareness skills, as well as problem solving skills. Other skills and activities involve using a compass, GPS, and nature to determine direction and to gain experience with creating and breaking codes. The camp culminates in a final exercise where the campers will put all of their new skills into practice.

Camp includes visits to local parks and recreation areas (admission fees included in camp price). Campers are transported by van. Specific building and room location will be provided to enrollees prior to camp start date
